“What’s your story? The power of storytelling in the 21st century English class.”

Lic. Cristian Solano Solano

MEP REGIONAL ENGLISH ADVISOR DRE CARTAGO

Storytelling is a powerful tool in education, turning lessons into engaging and memorable experiences. It helps students understand complex subjects, stimulates their imagination and critical thinking, and fosters empathy by exposing them to diverse perspectives. Through storytelling, educators can make learning more relatable and impactful, preparing students for real-world problem-solving and communication.

21ST CENTURY SKILLS: A NEW GENERATION OF STUDENTS

This session highlights the importance of 21st-century skills—critical thinking, creativity, collaboration, communication, digital literacy, and social-emotional learning—in preparing Costa Rican students for the modern world. We will discuss integrating these skills into the curriculum and daily activities while emphasizing fundamental teaching principles. This session combines theoretical and practical approaches to enhance classroom interaction and develop abilities, showing how these skills empower Costa Rican students to thrive globally.
